Vision for the Future

Thank you for being here tonight.

For more than 90 years, Envision has created opportunities for people who are blind or have low vision to learn, grow, work, and live with greater independence. As we honor the journeys that have shaped our legacy, we also look toward the future: investment in new spaces, emerging technologies, innovative programs, and expanded opportunities that empower individuals to build the futures they choose.

Tonight, we celebrate the impact we have made together and invest in what comes next. Your generosity will help us continue transforming lives, strengthening our community, and creating new possibilities for generations to come.
